COMMUNITY DESCRIPTION:

Macomb County, Michigan – With safe neighborhoods, strong schools, top-notch healthcare facilities and diverse leisure-time options, Macomb County is the perfect place to call home! Growing faster than any other area in greater Detroit, Macomb is Michigan’s third most populated county with more than 847,000 residents.
One of the greatest assets of Macomb County is the world class recreational opportunities it offers. Macomb is home to 34 miles of coastline along Lake St. Clair with ample opportunities for swimming, boating, fishing, and many other ways to enjoy the water. The County also features the Clinton River and its tributaries, which host kayaking, canoe liveries and waterfront restaurants. Macomb is home to some of the best food in the world with over 600 dining choices from locally-owned restaurants to the favorite national chains.

The County is also home to three State recreational facilities as well as three Huron-Clinton Metroparks, and over 3,800 acres of municipal parks and over 25 golf courses. Enjoy the cultural experience in Macomb County by visiting the Anton Art Center, the Lorenzo Cultural Center, the Macomb Center for Performing Arts and the Warren Symphony Orchestra.

Oakland County, Michigan – Named for its beautiful oak trees, Oakland County offers a blend of big city, suburban, and rural lifestyles. Oakland County is recognized as having Michigan’s second highest population with a residential population of more than 68,000 and has continued to grow since its inception over 175 years ago. Located north of Detroit, Oakland County is part of the nation’s seventh largest metropolitan area and is home to 39 cities and 14 townships. Today, residents have access to 30 downtown areas, nearly 90,000 acres of natural settings, several entertainment and sports venues, plus countless opportunities to achieve a high quality of life. This area is also home to several institutions of higher education, well-known private schools, and exemplary public schools.

With its proximity to Detroit, quality schools, and numerous recreational opportunities, the Oakland area is a perfect place to raise a family. Museums and golf courses are nearby, and Detroit's sporting events, concerts and more are just a half-hour away. The old, well established neighborhoods of the past are joined by gorgeous new residential development. The Oakland area is also a great locale for pet lovers.

Oakland County is the new horizon for living, working and prospering. Focused on the future, Oakland County is one of the wealthiest counties in America, and features a quality of life and commerce that few places can match. Oakland offers world-class educational opportunities for children and adults, ranging from two award-winning public school districts, Avondale Schools and Rochester Community Schools, to Oakland University, a major Division I degree-granting university. The community also is served by 10 private schools, Rochester College and Oakland Community College, the largest of Michigan's community-based publicly funded institutions.

With excellent schools, affordable housing, employment opportunities and an abundance of cultural and recreational activities, moving to Oakland County will be the best decision you can make.
